POLITICAL NEWS AND NOTES

Demanding that Solomon Mahelona should resign immediately from the secretaryship of the fifth precinct of fifth district, an angry and dissatisfied crowd of politicians of that precinct assembled behind closed doors of the Republican headquarters last Saturday afternoon. Mahelona, unaware of the action of the crowd, was confronted with a resolution, demanding his immediate resignation from the secretaryship of the precinct. But, contrary to their expectation, Mahelona refused absolutely to yield to their demands.

Eddie Moreno, leader of the anti-Mahelona forces told his adherents that it was proper for them to ask Mahelona to resign for the sake of political harmony. Mahelona could not see any reason why he should resign. And as a result of that it was decided to postpone the meeting until some time this week, in order to enable Mahelona and his lieutenants to prepare their defense.

The Moreno sympathizers charged that Mahelona has been a traitor not only to Prince Kuhio and his forces in the recent county convention; but also to the delegation of his precinct which was present in the convention. They said that Mahelona broke faith with them when he voted for the open ballot.

Mahelona said that he had good reasons for doing so, admitting that had the votes of the two opposing forces come to a tie, he would have moved for reconsideration of the motion as to the manner of voting. At any rate, after he had made his explanations, the enemy agreed to postpone the meeting until this week. In the mean time, the feeling of animosity between the members of the precinct still exists, it is said.

The assembly was presided over by E. J. Crawford, one of the leading lights in that precinct. Moreno's friends said after the meeting that if Mahelona does not resign they will knife James Bicknell, who is employing Mahelona in his office.

While Chas. K. Notley, standard bearer of the Home Rule party, has not said so himself, it is reported that he will during his tour of the other islands, not only speak for himself, but will, in addition, say good words for Prince Kuhio, Delegate to Congress.

Notley, it must be remembered, worked together with the Prince during the last campaign. Whenever they had political meetings in Kaneohe, Ewa, Waimanalo, Hahaione, and other places on this island, with reference to his attitude towards the other candidates on the Republican ticket, whom he asked the Hawaiians to vote for, in November, have impressed the voters so much that there now exists between them a better understanding.

Kuhio, according to those who have been with him in the meetings, asked the electorate to vote for the senatorial and legislative candidates on the Republican ticket. Beside this, he said: "I do not know anything about the fight in the ninth precinct," said Ach. "I was never consulted by any of the members of the fighting ninth as to their pillkias with Solomon Mahelona. I never saw their resolution. "It seems to me," said he, "that the writer of the Advertiser is simply drawing my name into the game, with a view to making the public believe that I am butting in in matters which properly belong to the ninth precinct. I am too poor a man to enter politics now," he concluded.

Prince Kuhio is popularizing himself before the electorate. His speeches which he has been making before political gatherings in Kaneohe, Ewa, Waimanalo, Hahaione, and other places on this island, with reference to his attitude towards the other candidates on the Republican ticket, whom he asked the Hawaiians to vote for, in November, have impressed the voters so much that there now exists between them a better understanding.

particularized the candidacy of each and every regular nominee of the party, and strongly asked the Hawaiian voters to vote for them. Last Saturday, in his tour of this island to Ewa, Waimanalo, Hahaione and other places, where he was accompanied by a large number of the regular Republican nominees, he made convincing speeches. He said that he could not accomplish anything, politically, without the election of his running mates, in whom, he added, he has full confidence.

Col. Sam Parker, in his address to the electorate in Hahaione last Saturday afternoon, said that he was ready to fill the office of mayor without any pillkias. He added that Mayor Fern, who was present was willing to step aside for two years only, in order to give him a chance to be the next mayor. (Laughter.) Fern said nothing but nodded his head, as if he was heartily in favor of permitting Col. Parker to get elected in November.

George F. Renton and J. M. Dowsett, aspirants for senators, made eloquent speeches to the voters. They promised to do what's right, if elected, as they were the sons of the soil. C. G. Bartlett, for supervisor, and George E. Smithies, for treasurer, made short but right-to-point speeches. John H. Wise, campaign manager also spoke briefly to the audience.

The party was piloted by R. von Damm, general director of the Republican executive county committee. They returned in the evening greatly satisfied with their trip to Hahaione.

Plans for active campaign in the 4th precinct of the 4th district, will be discussed thoroughly by the members of that precinct tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Republican headquarters. J. A. Thompson this morning made arrangements with the headquarters leaders and reserved seats for about forty-three people.

The delegates of the last Territorial and County conventions, according to Thompson, will be present at the meeting, and, judging from the present indications, it is expected that a large delegation will be there.

WATERHOUSE ON BOY REPUBLIC

At a special luncheon at the University Club this noon, William Waterhouse spoke upon "The George Junior Republic." At the speaker's table were various men about the city who are interested in the boy's work, among whom were Dr. Doremus Scudler, Willard Brown, Charles F. Loomis, Theodore Richards, George P. Castle, Paul Super, George C. Potter, W. L. Whitney and James A. Wilder. Mr. Waterhouse was introduced by W. F. Dillingham, who spoke of him as being one of Hawaii's best boosters. During the course of his talk he said:

"The George Junior Republic is a movement which was started several years ago by Henry George in the State of New York. The object of the movement is to provide a home for boys who have become beyond the control or who have been before the juvenile court, and who want another chance to make good and become good citizens.

"There are several of these republics throughout the United States, but the one I am to speak about is the one that was established about three years ago in the suburbs of Los Angeles. It was founded by Mrs. Margaret B. Fowler and Miss Kate Fowler, and at present there are seventeen boys in the institution, but the place is to be enlarged in order to accommodate a much larger number.

"The republic is governed entirely by the boys, who have their own president and other executive officers, a courthouse, jail and a school building. The average rate for the board, etc., of the boys is thirty dollars a month. As soon as a boy comes to the place he must at once go to work, and every Saturday night must pay his board. In case he has no money when he enters the republic, the necessary funds are advanced him and this he pays back a little at a time. One half of the day is devoted to school, the boys being paid for going at the same rate that their employers pay them. The other half of the day they go to work.

"As a general rule, the boys are kept in the republic until they are twenty-one. By this time they have settled down and have become professionals in whatever line of work they may have taken up when they entered. Many of the boys who have been members of the republic have made good, and I could relate several instances which go to show what really good work the republic is doing."

At the close of his talk, he was asked the question in regard to the republic being run along the lines of a reform school. In reply to this Mr. Waterhouse said that it was in no way a reform school, and was not run as such. It was simply the giving of these boys another chance—boys that had been brought before juvenile courts and had been sent to the republic with the idea of making good citizens of them.

"The kind of boys that these republics want," concluded Mr. Waterhouse, "are boys that want to begin over again and get on their feet. Of course, there are some instances where boys are found who do not take to the rules of the republic, but these cases are rarely found."

A boy is wanted immediately at the Star-Bulletin.

Having been regularly nominated by the Republican District and County Convention for the office of Representative, Fifth District, I respectfully solicit the support of the voters in the coming election.

TERRITORY GETS $350,000 CASH

The first delivery of coin from the sale of the recent Territorial bond issue arrived late last week and is stored away in the vaults of the treasury. The sum of $350,000 in actual cash comprised the delivery. While this is not the total amount of the first sale of the bonds, a considerable sum of money already in the vault that was to be sent East to pay current expenses and interest on old bonds, will be added to it, increasing the amount of funds available for loan fund purposes in the islands.

Later deliveries of bonds have been made in the East, and the money from them will be coming through to Treasurer Conkling at frequent intervals for the next five or six months.

GOVERNOR'S FIRST RECEPTION TODAY

The first reception of the season to the general public by the Governor and Mrs. Frear will be given this afternoon at their home, beginning at 4 o'clock. It is to be an informal affair, and the first of a series that will be given by the Executive and Mrs. Frear on the first Monday of each month from October to May, inclusive.

I SELLS LAND.

I lately sold a piece of land on Kauai for $10. No, this should not be in quotation marks—it is not an interview. Neither does it mean that "your orator" is squandering a barony on the Garden Island. The simple news intended to be related is that one George I. of Kahikahi, district of Hanalei, Kauai, has sold to Naea (opio) a piece of land at Wailua, Kauai, for ten dollars. The deed has just been filed for record, and I no doubt has the money. Singular it may be, but it is not bad grammar.

BREWERY DIVIDEND INCREASE.

It is announced this afternoon that the dividend of Honolulu Brewing & Malt Company for the months of October, November and December has been raised to 11-4 per cent. This in fact means a special dividend of one-half of 1 per cent, added to the regular dividend of some time past.

Kotsubo and sixteen other Japanese were declared not guilty by a jury in Circuit Judge Whitney's court today, of the charge of gambling on which they had been tried in the district court previously and which they had appealed.

BENJAMIN CLOTHES

The Grace and Good Form of "BENJAMIN CLOTHES" will impress you at a glance, but it takes wear to demonstrate their real worth.

"BENJAMIN CLOTHES" owe their surpassing and exquisite finish to the fact that they are made by the highest talented designers and tailors, and in their own properly equipped work rooms.

THE CLARION

HAVE YOU SEEN THE

Now Being Turned Out From Our Workroom?

"Y OUR STYLES are certainly designed to please the most fastidious. And I can truly say they are by far the best looking hats I have yet seen in Honolulu. The artistic trimming and the finish and work is certainly a credit to any Millinery Department."

So said one of our Leading Ladies who called at our show room a few days ago in response to our invitation.

And we could quote similar expressions from many other ladies to whom we have had the pleasure of showing the New Fall Hats.

Could we ask less than the mere opportunity of showing you these beautiful creations of the milliner's art?

If we don't get your order now we feel sure that we will get it when you are ready for the new hat.

Kindly allow us to show you our elegant styles in millinery.

JORDAN'S

NEWCOMERS' CLUB HAS INTERESTING MEETING

The second meeting of the Newcomers' Club was held yesterday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A., and about thirty-five men were present. Before the meeting was called to order, Anderson's orchestra rendered a short program, and following this the weekly discussion on "The Principles of Jesus" was held in Cooke Hall under the leadership of Ed. Towse. Following the discussion the fellowship supper was held in the cafeteria, during which conditions in China during the present period, and the effect of Americans upon the industrial development of the infant republic, were discussed by Dean R. Wickes and W. L. Howard.

Wickes laid special stress upon the effect of Christianity upon the Chinese and just what Christianity is doing in China, while Mr. Howard discussed Oriental conditions from the industrial and economic standpoint.

The night school classes of the association open this evening and it has been announced that all those wishing to enroll may do so at the desk. At the last report of the educational secretary, A. E. Larimer, the present enrollment is much larger than was expected, having run well up into the hundreds.
